While I was shopping for bezel diamond earrings, I came across a pair of 18K, white gold, bezel set round and pave diamond earrings. You can only imagine how beautiful they were. The bezel setting was the perfect compliment to the pave set diamonds in this pair of earrings. Another great pair of bezel diamond earrings I came across was a pair of two tone diamond bezel earrings. This pair in particular was stunning the way the light catches the two tones, and the bezel setting. They were very eye catching and sparkly to say the least. Another nice pair of bezel diamond earrings was a two tone bezel diamond drop earring.

I think if you are looking for bezel diamond earrings, and cant decide on the setting color you should go with a two tone. When you buy a two tone bezel diamond earring, you can wear it with any of your other jewelry as well. Buying a few two tone pieces, is a great way to enjoy all over your different toned pieces together, and more often.

Bezel diamond earrings, would make a great gift, for that special woman in your life. You can never go wrong, when you buy bezel diamond earrings as a gift. Buy her a pair of bezel diamond earrings, and show her how good your taste in jewelry really is.
